CADIZ, May 10.

WE are assured that the Merchants of this City have resolved, upon certain Conditions, to lend the Court 800,000 Pieces of Eight. We hear that the Squadron of five Ships of the Line and five Frigates, which set Sail a few Days ago from Carthagena, under the Command of Count de Clavijo, has passed the Streights and is going to join the Cadiz and Ferrol Squadron.

An Advice Ship is arriv'd here from the West-Indies: The Letters it has brought over say, that upon the News of the taking of Porto Bello by Admiral Vernon, the Garrison of Carthagena and its Forts was immediately reinforced to the Number of 1800 Men; that the necessary Measures were likewise taken for securing the other Places along the Coast from any Insult; and that Admiral Vernon had not undertaken any Thing further against the Spaniards since the Affair of Porto Bello.

Our last Advices from Catalonia, inform us, that Admiral Haddock, after cruizing several Days on the Coast of that Province, came up and dropt Anchor before Barcelona, and begun to fire upon the Town, which answer'd the English Fleet in like Manner, but as we are assur'd, without doing any considerable Damage on either side. They add, that the English Admiral had taken several Fishing Vessels on the Coast, but sent them away, after paying for the Fish they had on board. It is computed that the Number of Letters of Marque given out at the Admiralty since the Commencement of the War, amounts to 230.

Madrid, May 16, We hear from Galicia, that a considerable Body of Troops is already assembled in that Province, and that those on the Route thither have received Orders to hasten their March.

They write from Barcelona, that they are hard at work in getting Things ready for transporting the rest of the Troops design'd for the Island of Majorca, together with a large Quantity of Provisions and Warlike Stores.

Hamburgh, June 3. Our Letters from Stockholm of the 27th of last Month say, that the Swedes continue their Warlike Preparations with as much Vigour as ever; the Magazines are filling with all Sorts of Provisions, and Warlike Stores; their Galleys are fitting up with all possible Diligence; and two Yachts are getting ready at Stockholm, in order to be sent to Carlescroon with Money for the Fleet.

Petersbourg, May 16. By the Measures taken for assembling Troops in the Provinces conquered from Sweden, we reckon to have there next Month not less than an Army of 80,000 Men.

Letter from Vienna, May 25.

'Private Letters from Constantinople still represent the 'Divan in a very perplexed Situation in regard to the Motions of Thamas Kouli Kan. The Fidelity of the Bashaw 'of Babylon being suspicious, the Grand Signor has re-'call'd him, and given that Government to the Seraskier Ba-'shaw of Bosnia, in whom he puts great Confidence. The 'People of Constantinople begin again to murmur against 'the Government, and even against the Grand Signour him-'self; so that should an Insurrection happen there, the Con-'sequences of it might prove fatal to the Sultan.

An Extract of a private Letter from Amsterdam, dated the 29th of May.

THE Tranquility which continues to reign in the Republick, occasions it to be more than ever thought, by those who unquestionably know how far the State would interest itself in Case there was any Likelihood of a general War, that France would continue to observe a strict Neutrality in the Quarrel between Great-Britain and Spain. Every Body here is surpriz'd at the Reports which have been, and are still spread abroad, that formidable Naval Armaments were fitted out at Brest, and in the other Ports of France; and People are the more so, because several Masters of Merchants Ships very lately arrived from Brest affirm, that they are not able in that Port to put above twelve Men of War to Sea, and that there is not even one of these which hath its Masts up; so far are they from being ready to put to Sea upon the first Order. The great Noise that was made here a while ago of the complete Victory gain'd by the Spaniards over an English Squadron, and which, it seems, was formerly communicated to their High Mightinesses by the Spanish Embassador, is at last come to nothing; and this in Opposition to the Proverb, which says, that there never was any Smoak without Fire, there being it appears not one Word of Truth in it. His Excellency has so often and so egregiously fail'd in his Intelligence, that their High Mightinesses will have but little Regard to what he shall for the future communicate to them.

LONDON, May 16.

We hear from Newcastle, that on Monday last arrived in Shields Harbour, six Transport Ships from London, in order to take on board the Hon. Col. Lowther's Regiment of Marines, now quarter'd in that Town. There are all manner of Conveniencies on board for their Reception, and each Ship is to carry 110 Marines, and a sufficient Complement of Sailors. They are brave stout Ships, and mount from 10 to 16 Carriage Guns each, and the St. George, Capt. John Rafton, of Hartlepool, who is Commander in Chief of this Fleet, mounts 36 great Guns.

May 23. They write from Lisbon, that upon Advice receiv'd there that twelve Spanish Men of War were sail'd from Cadiz to the West-Indies, and were to be join'd by several others from Ferrol, the British Minister residing there immediately dispatch'd an Advice-Boat to acquaint Admiral Vernon therewith: Nevertheless many doubt whether this Squadron is really design'd for America, it being reported those Ships have been seen off the Coasts of Galicia.

They

They write from Caſſel, that the Preparations for the Reception of the Princeſs Mary of England are finiſh'd: Prince Frederick, her intended Conſort, will meet her with a magnificent Retinue. The Rejoicing for the Marriage will continue ſeveral Days. A great Number of the Nobility of the neighbouring Dominions will come to participate thereof.

We hear from Paris, that the Earl of Waldegrave has lately had two Conferences with Cardinal de Fleury, upon the Means of agreeing upon a Suſpenſion of Arms between Great-Britain and Spain.

They write from Hanover, that great Preparations are making there, and at Herrenhouſe, for the Reception of the King of Great-Britain, the Expectation of whoſe Arrival in that Country cauſes an inexpreſſible Joy. That the Court after the Arrival of the King, will be very ſplendid. The Princeſs Mary will be there with the Prince Frederick of Heſſe. It's aſſur'd, that the Prince and Princeſs of Orange, propoſe likewiſe to be there.

Edinburgh, May 6. The following is perhaps as remarkable a Story as has ever happen'd, and will ſhew the Reader, to what Lengths either real or imagin'd Hardſhips will lead a Man: Two Sailors, Strachan and Bailie, belonging to the Ship the Convener of Leith, then in Gottenburgh, having concerted betwixt themſelves, reſolved to make their Eſcape and return to Britain; but as there was no probable Means of effecting this without the moſt imminent Danger, they agreed to make firſt for the Coaſt of Norway, where they could ſooneſt propoſe a Paſſage to Scotland. To effect this, they got a ſmall Skiff prepared, which coſt them 15 s. and having provided a few Pieces of Beef, ſome Water and Biſket, and likewiſe a Compaſs, Line, &c. from the Ship, they put to Sea, but were ſoon drove from their Latitude by a ſtrong Eaſterly Wind. This quite diſconcerted their Meaſures, and reduced them to a very ſad Condition. They now ſaw their Folly, when it was too late to expect Relief; they wiſh'd for any Shore, but had no probable Hopes of ever reaching one; their ſmall Skiff was too weak to reſiſt a Storm, and their Proviſions ſcanty; they could not ſleep for the Seas which broke in upon them, which likewiſe wetted to ſuch a Degree, that they were quite ſenſeleſs, and ſo feeble, as to be unable to work at their Oars. In this diſmal Condition they continued for the Space of eight Days, when kind Providence, to their inexpreſſible Joy and Surprize, directed their Boat to Scarborough in England, where they arrived ſafe. They ſeem to be ſenſible of the Folly of this Adventure, and agree to think that it is Madneſs to run a certain Danger to ſhun an imagin'd Evil. Publick Thankſgiving has been offered in the Church of Leith for their Deliverance.

Extract of a Letter from London, May 28.

The 17 Inſtant, M. de Buſſy, who is charged with the Affair of the Court of France, had his firſt private Audience of the King at St. James's Palace. We hear that this Miniſter has delivered to thoſe of his Majeſty a Plan of Accommodation between this Court and that of Spain. It is ſaid, that the King of France does not appear in it as Mediator; but that his Moſt Chriſtian Majeſty took upon him to cauſe this Plan to be preſented in the Name of three other Powers. We have not yet been able to learn the Conditions propoſed in it, nor the Court's Sentiments concerning it, but in all Appearance it will not be long before we are informed of its Contents: In the mean time, it is ſaid we ſhall ſoon have a Suſpenſion of Arms; and what occaſions this Conjecture is, the Suſpending for a Month the Embarcation of 1200 of the Marines, and a Detachment of the Foot Guards. The ſame Day the M. de Buſſy had his Audience, an Expreſs arrived from the Earl of Waldegrave, the King's Embaſſador at the Court of France. His Excellency writes, among other Things, that if the Negociation of M. de Buſſy ſucceeds, that Miniſter will be veſted with the Characters of Envoy Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary from the King of France.

Extract of a Letter from Paris, June 3.

The Earl of Waldegrave, Embaſſador from the King of Great-Britain, has lately receiv'd a Courier from his Court, whoſe Diſpatches occaſion'd a long Conference between the Cardinal de Fleury and his Excellency. The Reſult of that Conference is a Secret to the Publick, as is likewiſe the Contents of the Diſpatches brought Yeſterday to the Cardinal by another Courier from London: We are aſſur'd two Expreſſes have been diſpatch'd to London ſince the Arrival of thoſe two Couriers.

May 31. On the 25th arrived Letters from Rear Admiral Haddock, dated from on board the Ipſwich at Port Mahon the 7th of May, adviſing, that on the 5th he diſpatched his Majeſty's Ships the Prince of Orange, Sunderland and Jerſey to join Sir Chaloner Ogle at Gibraltar, whoſe Squadron, when they have joined him, will conſiſt of twelve ſtout Ships of War. Rear Admiral Haddock remains at Port Mahon with the reſt of his Squadron, ſome of his Ships being employed to cruize on the Coaſt of Catalonia, and on that of Italy.

An order is ſent down from above for Victualling with all Diſpatch, the following Ships, viz. the Elizabeth Pink, Concord, Oxford, Norway Merchant, Humber, Conſtant Frigate, Fame, Genoa, Joſeph, John and Sarah, and the Threee Siſters. Theſe are the laſt of the 63 Tranſports taken up for the Service of the Government.

From the South-Carolina Gazette, Friday July 18. 1740.

To Morrow and Sunday, Morning and Evening, the Rev. Mr. Whitefield will preach at the uſual Times and Place in this Town: And on Monday Morning at Aſhley-Ferry at 9 o'Clock, and on Tueſday at Mr. Bee's at Ponpon.

The Reaſon of his not coming to preach at the Places appointed the Beginning of this Week, was his being cited to appear before Mr. Commiſſary Garden and ſome others of the Clergy, to anſwer to Articles of Impeachment, For not uſing the Form of Common-Prayer in Charles-Town Meeting-Houſes where he has preached. He appear'd three Times at the judicial Place in the Pariſh Church of St. Philip's, and many attended to know the Iſſue of the Trial. On Tueſday the firſt Day of his appearing, he ſcrupled the Authority of the Court. On Wedneſday he enter'd a Recuſatio Judicis. On Thurſday that being repell'd, he appeal'd Apud Acta to his Majeſty in the High Court of Chancery. So that all further Proceedings here on that Affair, are entirely put a Stop to.

Charles-Town, July 25.

Mr. Whitefield arrived here from Georgia, July 3d, and has preach'd July 4th in the Evening at Mr. Smith's Meeting in Charleſtown; July 5th twice at ditto, and likewiſe the next Day; July 7th once at Mr. Chanler's Meeting; July 8th twice at Mr. Oſgood's Meeting at Dorcheſter; July 8th twice at Mr. Chanler's and once in Charleſtown; July 10th once at Chriſt Church upon Wando; July 11th twice in Charleſtown; July 12th twice at the Pariſh Church on John's Iſland; July 13th twice in Charleſtown, where, after Evening Sermon, was collected for the Orphan-houſe in Georgia, upward of 412 l. Currency;--- July 14th and 15th twice a Day at ditto, and once at Mrs. Woodward's James-Iſland. July 17th, 18th, 19th and 20th every Day in Charleſtown. At all which Places he preach'd with very general Acceptance, and with ſuch Flame and Power, as even to conquer the Prejudices conceiv'd againſt him by many who never before had an Opportunity of hearing him.

BOSTON, Auguſt 11.

By Capt. Burſly in a Brigantine which arriv'd laſt Week from the Bay, we are inform'd, that Capt. Dunham, with 7 Hands, going into the Bay in a Scooner belonging to this Town, was boarded by a Spaniſh Lanche with twenty ſeven Spaniards on board, which came from behind one of the Keys, and were cloſe on board them before they perceiv'd her; but being ready they let fly a couple of ſwivel Guns at her, charg'd with Muſket Shot, which ſhatter'd the Lanche very much, and kill'd fourteen of the Spaniards; the Captain of the Lanche was ſo ſurpriz'd that he jump'd upon the Schooner's Quarter-Deck: The Lanche made all poſſible haſt away: but not without receiving the ſecond Part of the ſame Tune, which, it is tho't, kill'd three or four more. The Maſter was treated with the utmoſt Humanity on board the Schooner, but whether he grew ſullen, or dy'd of the Wounds he had receiv'd, is uncertain; but ſo it was, that in two Days Time he took his Departure: Said an Ave Maria or two, turn'd his Face to the Side of the Cabin wherein he lay, and dy'd like a Lamb.

NEW-YORK, Auguſt 18.

Yeſterday Noon arrived here a Brigantine in 7 Weeks from London, by whom we hear that My Lord Cathcart, and the Forces under his Command, were all embark'd, and waited only for the return of Sir John Norris from Court, who it is thought will bring their ſailing Orders.

The Brigt. came out in Company with upwards of 200 ſail bound to Virginia, Maryland, &c. under Convoy of a Man of War.

On Monday laſt arrived here Capt. Joſiah Smith in 25 Days from Jamaica, who brings Advice, that Admiral Vernon was returned to Jamaica without effecting any Thing, occaſioned by the want of Rigging, Maſts, Sails and all other Stores, and has been obliged to lay up his Ships. No Store Ship being yet arrived from England.

By the above Veſſel we likewiſe hear, that Capt. Tuckneſs in a Brigantine belonging to this Place, was lately taken by a Spaniſh Privateer Scooner in her Paſſage to Jamaica; that ſoon after the Diamond Man of War gave Chaſe to the Privateer and her Prize; but they running among the Rocks under the Shore, the Man of War could not come up, but mann'd her Boats to board them, when the Spaniards having planted ſome Guns on the Shore, and keeping a continual Fire from the Veſſel likewiſe, the Boats were drove off, and the Privateer eſcaped.

On Thurſday laſt arrived here Capt. Tingley from Georgia, by whom we hear that the Siege of Auguſtine is rais'd, and the Forces returned to their reſpective Stations.
